

Erik Willer

YJBV welcomes Erik Willer to the firm as an associate attorney.

Erik grew up in Ann Arbor, Michigan and majored in political science at the University of Michigan. He has worked as a paralegal in Washington, D.C., interned at the Smithsonian Institution, and worked at a pub in Ireland.

Erik began working for YJBV as a clerk while studying at the University of Minnesota Law School. Erik says, “After graduation, I chose to stay at YJBV because of the people and the quality of their work. Not only are we co-workers but we are also friends.” Erik finds that the experience and depth of knowledge of the attorneys and paralegals at YJBV is an invaluable resource for properly addressing his clients’ needs.

Erik is an avid fan of college football and hockey. He enjoys camping and fishing, and while he appreciates the natural beauty of Minnesota, he is still getting used to the tough winters. (ed. note: As if Michigan is the tropics.)

Erik is honored to join the YJBV tradition of standing up for the rights of clients in FELA and personal injury cases.
