

YJBV Expands to St. Louis

YJBV is pleased to announce a merger with Robert H. Wendt of The Wendt Law Firm in St. Louis, Missouri. The combined company will bring St. Louis together with our offices in Minneapolis and Seattle.

YJBV and Robert Wendt have collaborated over the years on a number of FELA and personal injury cases. This merger is the culmination of that relationship, joining the national reputation of YJBV with the regional reputation of Robert Wendt.

YJBV has served injured railroaders and their families for more than 75 years. The firm's attorneys, paralegals, and field representatives embody a depth of expertise in litigation and investigation that is unparalleled in FELA law.

Attorney John Magnuson is providing strong assistance to Wendt from the Minneapolis office and is spending a great deal of time working in St. Louis.

YJBV Senior partner Jim Vucinovich of the Seattle office is "proud to be bringing Wendt aboard," adding that he brings "proven experience in the FELA and is one who will be a powerful advocate for our railroad clients in the St. Louis region."

In Missouri, the firm will be known as Yaeger, Jungbauer, Barczak, Vucinovich & Wendt.

